

C. H. WARNER CANDIDATE FOR SPEAKER FROM SIXTH DISTRICT

WAS ENDORSED AT LOCAL CONFERENCE

Received Unanimous Support of Members Here--Aitkin Man States His Position in the Matter

Charles W. Bouck, Royalton, Chairman and Hilding A. Swanson Secretary of the Conference

Charles H. Warner, of Aitkin, was unanimously endorsed for speaker of the house at the conference of legislators of the sixth district in Brainerd on Saturday afternoon.

He is the choice of a majority of the members of the 1917 house delegation of the sixth district and probably all of the members. These pledged their support to the Aitkin man.

Charles W. Bouck of Royalton, Morrison county; John N. Nett of Richmond, Stearns county; L. D. Brown of Little Falls, Morrison county; Erwin E. Orr of Wadena, Wadena county; Hilding A. Swanson of Brainerd, Crow Wing county; E. R. Hinds of Hubbard, Hubbard county.

The six members absent were Edward Indrehus of Benton, John B. Pattison of Stearns, John J. Winter of Stearns, Fred T. Mossman of Todd, Farley A. Dore of Cass, L. G. Pendergast of Beltrami.

The conference organized by selecting Charles W. Bouck of Royalton, one of the most popular members of the lower house, as chairman and Hilding A. Swanson, of Brainerd, as secretary.

The vote was unanimous for Warner. Warner's friends desire that he be understood to be the candidate of the sixth district and northern Minnesota in general.

Charles W. Bouck was named to head a steering committee and he selected as his associates Ed R. Hinds and L. D. Brown.

In a statement made shortly after being endorsed, Mr. Warner said: "I stand for the election of the speaker of the next house of representatives by the members-elect without outside interference by any interests."

I wish to see the house organized without the wet and dry question being made the paramount issue with the view of obtaining some constructive legislation for the benefit of the whole state.

"I pledge myself to give every member of the house and every citizen of the state and every interest in the state an absolutely square deal and that is the only pledge I have to make."

Representative Swanson brought up the subject of a division of the gross earnings tax to benefit railway shop towns in communities such as Brainerd.

The conference adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, Charles W. Bouck.

BOYS HOLD UP IOWA TRAIN

Rob Four Men on Caboose of Freight and Escape.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The story of the holdup of a Chicago and Northwestern through freight train near Clinton, Ia., was brought here by C. H. Swanson of Mechanicsville, Ia., a passenger.

The holdups were two youths, he said, who wore masks and rode out of Clinton on the bumpers.

After they had robbed four men in the caboose they fled forward on the train. The conductor waited until the middle of the bridge spanning the Mississippi river had been reached before sounding a warning to stop the train, hoping to hold the bandits on the bridge until the train crew, reinforced by the police, could catch them.

The bandits, however, drew revolvers and escaped by running to the end of the bridge.

Chamber of Commerce members, their invited guests and all interested in the work of the organization, whether they are members or not, are invited to the first bi-monthly club dinner, inaugurated by the house and social committee of which Rev. George Phil Sheridan is chairman and the plans for which have been carefully worked out.

The dinner will be served promptly at 6:15 P. M. Tuesday, cafeteria style and members and friends will be served until 7:30 P. M. when the short program planned by the committee will be given, prior to the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Business men are urged to come to the dinner from their places of business and if necessary, they can return to their desks and later enjoy the program and meeting of the Chamber. This plan has worked satisfactorily elsewhere, in fact has been adopted by successful commercial clubs in the larger cities.

The dinner will be served cafeteria style and there will be no formality as to it or the program to follow. It is the object of those who have advocated the plan to adopt this means of bringing employer and employee closer together, to make men feel acquainted with each other and to iron out any little differences which may have proven a drawback to successful club work in Brainerd.

The program and menu to be given Tuesday night indicate that there will be a "feast of reason and flow of soul" and that all who attend will enjoy themselves. The program will be given immediately after the dinner hour closes at 7:30, when President Henry I. Cohen will make a few preliminary remarks and the house and social committee assume charge.

GERMAN ARMIES EFFECT JUNCTION

Teutonic Forces Are Joined Near Bucharest.

ROUMANIANS ARE USING TORCH

Troops in Flight Are Setting Fire to Villages—Falkenhayn and Macken-sen's Forces Unite at Alexandria
Russians Unable to Aid Allies.

London, Nov. 27.—With armies of the Teutonic allies advancing toward it, both from the west and southwest, Bucharest, the capital of Roumania, is in imminent peril.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's troops have crossed the Danube from Bulgarian territory to Zimnita and are in touch near Alexandria, forty-seven miles southwest of Bucharest, with the forces of General von Falkenhayn's army from Craiova.

Roumanians Use Torch.

All along the front on the Walla-chian plains east of the Alt river, the Roumanians are in flight, burning towns behind them, Berlin says.

To the north, on the heights of Curtea-Dearges in the region of Dragoslavele, northeast of Campulung, and in Western Moldavia the Roumanians are offering strong resistance to the southward advance of the Teutons. On all the sectors, attempts by the Austro-Germans to advance have been held back by the Roumanians.

Active in Dobruja.

As yet there has been no indication of the arrival of Russian reinforcements to aid the Roumanians on the Wallachian plains, but the Russo-Roumanian troops in Dobruja are active, possibly in an endeavor to push back the invaders to the Tchernavoda-Constanza railway line.

In the Macedonian theater bad weather prevails and there has been no infantry action except on the left wing of the entente allied line, where the Italians have made further progress toward Trnova, according to Paris.

Reports in Conflict.

This statement, as regards the gain, is contradicted by the Sofia war office, which says an Italian attack here was repulsed. Sofia also denies a recent French report that the French had captured the town of Dobromir.

Little activity is being displayed on the French front.

There has been considerable artillery firing along the Eastern front from the Riga region to the Carpathians, with the Germans the aggressors.

Chiropractic

In searching to find out how drugs act upon the body. Dr's have learned that the body acts best without the use of drugs. Medical literature teems with admissions that drugs kill more than they cure

It is an old superstition that one must take a drug for every ill, but the people are gradually breaking away from it. Have you ever stopped to think, How, and in what way, drugs can cure?

What intelligence is there in a bottle of medicine, or a box of pills? Compare them with nature. How can they possess the knowledge of building a cell in the human body? Can drugs mend broken or misplaced bones in your body?

I say emphatically NO. Nature alone with the aid of a competent Chiropractor can do such work. Investigate and be convinced.

NEW SLOGAN FOR BRAINERD

"Put Brainerd's Musical Talent on the Map" at Concert December 8th

SPLENDID PROGRAM PREPARED

Wm. MacPhail, Minneapolis, Soloist—Symphony Orchestra Plays. Choral Club Sings

"Put Brainerd's musical talent on the map," this is to be the slogan for the next few months. Every effort is being made by the citizens to accomplish this end. Special mention ought to be made of Edwin Harris Bergh and the Symphony orchestra and Choral club; they have been working steady for weeks to make the concert on Dec. 8th the biggest event ever held in Brainerd.

As an added attraction the Symphony association have secured the services of Minnesota's foremost violinist, Wm. MacPhail, who will be heard in several numbers.

The orchestra will play the following:

"Pastel Minuet" by Paradis. This is a favorite with the leading orchestras of the world and will find a receptive ear in Brainerd.

Prelude from the Grand Opera of King Manfred, by Reinecke, who is one of the foremost present day German musicians.

And by request they will repeat Dvorak's "Humoresque."

The Choral club will sing three numbers, two of which will have orchestra accompaniment. The greatest of three numbers is the soul-thrilling "Gloria from the 12th Mass" by Mozart, with 40 voices and over 70 instruments the interpretation of this wonderful composition will certainly remain with our people for a long time.

"Put Brainerd's musical talent on the Map". Get tickets right away. The concerts will be held in the opera house.

Don't say you can't afford it. Just make a big effort and let us crowd the opera house to its doors. Stand by the home talent of which we ought to be proud. Boost the efforts of those who are doing for the young men and women of Brainerd a work that will tell in the generations to come. The slogan "Put Brainerd's Musical Talent on the Map."

Jewel Card Club

The Jewel card club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sleeper, 1007 Kingwood street on Saturday evening, five tables of progressive 500 being played. The ladies head prize was won by Mrs. M. Bedal, the gentleman's head prize by Frank Locker. The ladies consolation prize went to Mrs. Joseph Hebert and the gentleman's to Wm. Schlange. A bounteous lunch was served, the occasion being greatly enjoyed by the guests present.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Coughs and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

MISS CRUM AND HER DOLL

Miss Crum gives an interesting account of her first appearance on the platform which was at Chana, Ill., and the occasion a Christmas entertainment. She was but five years old. When it came to her number on the program, she began to cry and beg her mother to let her stay with her and not go up on the platform before so many people. But her mother was firm and insisted upon Edna going to her father who was waiting at the piano to accompany her. With many protests and much sobbing she was led to her father who, while he tuned her violin, tried to pacify her, telling her to look up in the very top of the tree at the big wax doll which would be hers if she would only play nicely. Then, eyes fixed upon the doll she played and forgot her troubles in the assurance that the doll was to be hers.

NOTED SUFFRAGE LEADER IS DEAD

Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Inez Milholland-Boisesevain, noted beauty and suffragist, is dead.

Mrs. Boisesevain was ill in a hospital here for ten weeks. She was stricken suddenly while addressing an audience in this city in the recent political campaign and fainted on the platform.

Mrs. Boisesevain's illness was diagnosed as anemia and blood transfusion was resorted to many times. Miss Vida Milholland twice gave blood for this purpose.

Mrs. Boisesevain's death removes perhaps the foremost feminist of this country at the time, her friends believe, when she was only entering on the period of her greatest service. She was only thirty years old.

Before her graduation from Vassar college she had become noted in suffrage activities in New York. Her beauty made her a distinguished feature in parades.

Her marriage in London three years later to Eugene Boisesevain, a wealthy Hollander, did not affect her zeal for the feminist movement in the slightest, and she continued to be a leader of the woman's movement.

The funeral will be held in New York.

RICH WOMEN FORM BIRTH CONTROL AID

New York, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Amos Pinchot, Mrs. J. Sergeant Cram, Mrs. Rose Potter Stokes and other New York society leaders began the organization here of a group of 100 women to operate the birth control clinic conducted in Brooklyn by Mrs. Margaret Sanger, whose trial for violation of the penal code in disseminating birth control information, begins today.

A meeting to perfect the details of the work will be held at the home of Mrs. Pinchot.

"These women, many of whom are wealthy, will take turns operating the clinic," Mrs. Sanger said. "They must be willing to risk arrest. As soon as one is arrested another will take up the work."

"We have a year's lease on the premises, and it will be conducted for a year. As soon as the police have arrested the first 100 women and put them in jail another 100 will be ready to take up the work."

Still a Secret.

Mrs. Judkins was endeavoring to console her young married daughter, who was weeping over her husband's shortcomings. "What could I do, my dear? I married you to Septimus because he vowed he had the secret of making you happy."

"True, m-m-mamma. It was a se-se-se-secret, and he k-k-k-kept it!"

Scrambled.

"No," she said to the grocer, "we got some eggs the other day by parcel post."

"How many?" ventured the grocer.

"Well, I don't know how many, but I would say about a gallon and a half of 'em."—BRAINERD LIB.

YANKEE DUCHESS

Once Miss May Ogden Goelet of New York City.

FRIEND OF QUEEN MARY.

Could Not Be Appointed Mistress of the Robes Because She Was Not Born in England—Collects Jewels and Has a Marvelous Necklace of Turquoise.

It was recently reported in American newspapers that the Duchess of Roxburghe, who before her marriage was Miss May Ogden Goelet of New York and Newport, had been offered the position of mistress of the robes to Queen Mary, vacated by the Duchess of Devonshire, consequent on the appointment of the duke to the governor generalship of Canada.

DUCHESS OF ROXBURGHE.

The rules of the court require that the mistress of the robes should not be of lower rank than a duchess, and this rule considerably limits the number of ladies to whom the premier position in Queen Mary's household could be offered. But the rules also say she must be an Englishwoman by birth, so the Duchess of Roxburghe was barred.

Of the duchesses the two who stand most high in the regard of Queen Mary are the Duchess of Portland and the Duchess of Roxburghe. The Duchess of Portland is mistress of the robes to Queen Alexandra, otherwise it is more than possible that the position would have been offered to her. The Duchess of Roxburghe's friendship with Queen Mary is not of very long standing. Her grace was, of course, received at court after her marriage, and afterward, with her husband, was the guest on several occasions of the late King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra.

The Duke of Roxburghe is one of the best all around sportsmen in England. He shoots, skates, rides to hounds and has half a dozen other strenuous pastimes, in all of which he excels.

He took part in the South African war and won much praise. During a reconnaissance at Rensburg a private lost his mount. The duke, realizing the great danger the man was in, rode out under a heavy fire and effected his rescue, the private and peer riding into safety on the same horse.

The duchess has a wonderful collection of turquoises, which has attracted a great deal of interest in society. The chief item in the collection is a large ornament for the neck composed of hundreds of turquoises, all flawless and of great beauty and value. The duchess had a hundred pieces of jewelry broken up to form this wonderful thing.

THE BIRD'S BATH.

Baking Tins Make Delightful "Tubs" For Feathered Pets.

Some canaries simply refuse to take baths regularly in the tiny bird baths usually provided for them. The thing to do then is to take all perches out of the cage and also the bottom. These set the cage over an oblong or square baking tin, according to the shape of the cage, just partly filled with water. This will leave no place for the bird to go but to cling to the side of the cage, of which we will soon tire, or take his plunge. Of course, if the bird simply sits in the water without bathing he must not be allowed to remain in the bath for very long, as he will catch cold. Most birds, however, will bathe if thus managed and enjoy the bath much better than if it were taken in a tiny dish. The baking tin should be new.

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE

The ways are now being greased for the launching of the movement for the readjustment of postal rates in the next session of congress. This problem was to have been taken up in the last session but had to be deferred on account of the consideration required by railway mail pay. Since this has been disposed of the committees are prepared to take up the matter of placing the various postal rates on a more equitable basis.

A zone system of rates for second class matter is being prominently urged to take the place of the present flat rate which was adopted nearly forty years ago. The present rate has for some time been regarded as a discrimination against the newspapers in favor of the great national magazines. Like the parcel post the proposed zone rates would be based on the length of the haul.

The postal committees have been besieged by petitions bearing millions of names and several hundred thousand letters from individuals urging a readjustment of postal rates with a view of making possible one cent letter postage. A survey of the situation indicates that sufficient changes will be made in the various rates to permit the granting of a 1 cent rate on local delivery letters in the next session of congress.

Chairman Moon of the house postal committee, interviewed in Washington, said:

"I think that the committee will take up this second-class mail matter at the next session and press it to a conclusion at once. While I cannot speak for the committee, this is my desire in the matter. I do not know what kind of a bill we will pass, whether it will have a zone feature attached to it or not. This view has been presented frequently in years past, and sometimes received favor and sometimes not. As to what shape the legislation will be in I am not able to say, but I am sure the committee will give it the best possible shape in the public interest."

Senator Clapp says that "legislation creating a postage rate of one cent on local delivery letters should be enacted by congress without any further delay. In view of the nervous condition of business throughout the country I believe the reduction of the local letter rate from 2 cents to one cent would serve a very valuable purpose by stimulating the commercial situation to a more satisfactory level."

The concentration of the Sixth district members on Charles H. Warner as a candidate for speaker of the next house will put some "pep" in the contest, not that the contests are without interest but Mr. Warner's entrance with the solid Sixth district back of him will give him such a lead that there will be a hurry up call sent from the headquarters of the other candidates to get their forces together to make a respectable showing. When the Sixth district men go after a position of this kind they usually land, because their selection of candidates is of the kind that attracts men to their standard bearers. Warner is a winner.

There is a clamor for a change in the election law that keeps the polls open from 6 in the morning until 9 at night, which requires spending the balance of the night and in many instances the greater part of the next day in counting the votes. In most states the polls close at 6 p. m., why not in Minnesota.

DE FACTO LEADERS
DIFFER ON PACT

Queretaro, Mex., Nov. 27.—High Mexican Officials here to attend the constitutional convention still are awaiting the full text of the border control protocol signed in Atlantic City last week and the full text of Secretary Lane's statement defining in part the policy of the United States government toward Mexico before they comment on either.

There is evidence, however, that the news of the protocol and of Secretary Lane's statement has been received by other officials with mixed feelings.

There is seemingly satisfaction that an arrangement has been reached for the withdrawal of the American troops and control of the border, but this is tempered by the feeling that Secretary Lane's statement will require deep consideration. The terms of the protocol mentioning a delay of forty days before the withdrawal of the troops is adversely commented on in some quarters.

HENRY LEADS IN CALIFORNIA

For Highest Democratic Elector Has Majority of 3,806 Votes.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 27.—Figures tabulated at the office of the secretary of state, when the canvass of San Francisco county's returns for presidential electors had been completed, showed that the highest Democratic elector had a margin of 3,806 votes over the highest Republican in the vote of the entire state.

The figures were: Francis J. Henry, highest Democrat, 466,290; J. E. Carlson, highest Republican, 462,394. The lowest Democratic elector, Mrs. Carrie L. Taylor, was found to have 463,621 votes, or a margin of 1,227 over the highest Republican. These figures do not include the amended vote or Orange county, where the addition of a missing precinct is said to make a difference of thirty-three votes in favor of the Republican electors.

The Men Enlisted to Fight the Germans

Note.—Following is the third of a series of three stories by J. W. Pegler about the "lost" American legion of the Candian army.

J. W. PEGLER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Somewhere on the English Coast, Nov. 11 (By Mail)—Wearing the king's kahke and ready to die for Britain, a legion of American troops in Canada's army, still wonder just why they "joined up."

"Why do Americans enlist?" was the question put to individuals of the legion by the United Press correspondent.

Boiled down to two words, their answer is "Just because."

Capt. F. H. Bur of Columbus, O., for all his ready fire of talk, developed as an automobile salesman in Los Angeles, is unable to say exactly what impulse made him take the step. He served two years in Cuba with the Seventh U. S. Infantry.

Burr was discovered unpacking his trunk by candle light shortly after the legion's arrival in a temporary camp. Gleaning through the dancing half light were the stars and stripes, tucked inside the tilted lid.

"The exact motive will always be a mystery to me," he said, pausing in his domestic labors. "There are lots of suggestions—hatred of Germany, admiration for France, the desire to avenge Belgium and the love of adventure. They don't exactly fit the case. Then there's the six-best-seller idea—domestic tragedies and scabbled love affairs. If any man in the outfit is suffering from a cracked heart, he is guarding his secret mighty well. Mix all these elements together and add impulse and you'll have the answer. But don't ask me about that impulse."

"The question our men are asking is not 'Why am I here?' but 'when do we go to France?'"

"Nearly 70 per cent of them have fought in the American army from China to Cuba and the remainder served with college cadet corps or state militias."

A sergeant saluted and addressed the captain:

"I'd like to have an evening's leave, sir," he said.

"How much pay did you draw today?"

"Five dollars—I mean a pound, sir."

"Sergeant, why did you enlist?" Burr asked abruptly.

The soldier grinned and replied: "Excuse my French, but I'm damned if I know."

He departed with an evening's leave to spend the pound in a soldier's way.

"That's A. L. Hollenback, of Sparta, Wis., three years in Porto Rico with the Third Wisconsin," Burr went on. "He and an Indian pal named Bassett from Pleasant Point, Mo., spend their leisure during the day searching for big wood. This cultivated forest don't fascinate them at all."

Maj. E. I. Harrington also of Columbus, was vague about what caused him to join, but as fidelity to get to the front as an English Tommy after nine months in a training camp.

Harrington won his football and baseball letters at Ohio state university, where he was a classmate of Burr's Lieut. C. E. Davis, also of the legion used to be their mathematics professor.

"Here is Capt. H. C. Millings, Harvard '05, 11 years in the 47th New York Infantry," said Harrington. "He ought to be a good man to define impulses and things."

Billing, a stocky, red-faced officer, got up from a cot where he was seated reading a letter.

"Tell it to Dr. Elliott," he said. "It's too much for me. If you do get the answer, let me in on it. When does the next draft to France?"

"It's the same all the way through," Burr said. "We have college men movies to medicine. Not all are officers either."

Sergt. Lester Langlance, of Ashford, N. C., was graduated from Carlisle and left the academy at West Point last March to join.

Sergt. W. C. Sapp is a graduate of West Virginia university. He gave up a position in Chicago when he heard the legion was forming.

TASK OF DEALING WITH CARRANZA

Has Been a Difficult One For This Government.

REGULAR ARMY FOR BORDER

Short Session of Congress Expected to Provide For Withdrawal of National Guardsmen—House Control and Patronage—Appropriations Committee
Nonpartisan in Its Employees.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 27.—[Special.]—Demands are being renewed for intervention in Mexico. They come from the same sources which have heretofore insisted that the United States must protect the lives and property not only of American citizens, but foreigners in that revolution ridden republic.

After three years and a half it is not believed that President Wilson will change his policy. If the recent election meant anything it was an endorsement of his policy in Mexico. "He kept us out of war" could refer to nothing but Mexico, for there was no place for war elsewhere. While diplomatic relations with Germany and Austria might have been broken, it need not have meant that the United States would enter the great war in Europe.

President Wilson was re-elected because he paid no attention to the clamor for intervention in Mexico and because American soldiers were not dying in the deserts and chaparral of Mexico.

Dealing With Carranza.

For nearly the entire term of the president he has been dealing with Carranza. Soon after coming to the White House Mr. Wilson refused to recognize Huerta and looked to Carranza thenceforth as the man to bring about a settlement of Mexican affairs. At every turn Carranza has thwarted and flouted the American government. When it was doing its utmost to help him he has taken particular pains to be most insolent and cantankerous. Even in negotiations Carranza and his agents have been deceitful or unyielding to just demands of the United States.

It begins to look as if the time had arrived for this government to cease dealing with Carranza.

Regular Army For Border.

Whatever else is done during the short session of congress it is the hope of many that a regular army will be provided for the guarding of the border, so that the national guard troops may be returned to their families and allowed to resume their usual occupations. If the pressure of the guardsmen is strong enough this result will be accomplished.

Something to Fight Over.

Besides the $500,000 in patronage to fight for which goes with the control of the house of representatives, there are all the chairmanships and control of legislation—to a certain extent. No Republican organization can control the party under present conditions. Even if there was a majority of ten or fifteen it is doubtful if the old rules could be adopted and the speaker restored to the power he once exercised. There are Republicans in the house who helped to overturn the Cannon rules and pave the way for the present system.

What Tammany Wants.

It is said that the Tammany organization is somewhat uneasy as to what the administration may do next year when a mayor of New York city is elected. Tammany only wants a clear party field in this contest. It does not want the administration entering into a fusion with the Republicans; it wants straight tickets.

From the general talk heard about election time it is safe to assume that Tammany knows that the Republicans will put up a straight ticket in the municipal campaign and will not fuse with any of the independent organizations.

Cabinet and the West.

Once a western man always a western man. At least that is the case with Life Pence, who was once a Populist congressman from Colorado and who is now a lawyer in New York. He told a group of Washington people the other day that as the west had re-elected President Wilson it should have more cabinet places. New York having voted against the president ought not to have three cabinet places while the west is so scantily provided. At the same time it is to be doubted whether there will be much of a shake up in the cabinet or that it will be reorganized on sectional lines.

Nonpartisan Employees.

The house appropriations committee is nonpartisan in its employees. There have been but three clerks of that committee since it was organized more than fifty years ago. James C. Couder was a Tennessee Democrat and served for more than thirty years. He is succeeded by Marcellus C. Sheld, a Minnesota Republican appointed recently by Chairman Fitzgerald, who is a Democrat. Sheld has been assistant clerk several years and was first appointed when Jim Tawney of Minnesota was chairman of the committee.

Sweden is Divided
Suffers Commercially

Note.—What a hodge-podge of war sentiment is Sweden, Simms has shown in the following, his first of six articles telling in his own vivid style of conditions in that country today. The second article, dealing with the royal women of Sweden, will appear tomorrow.—Editor.

By WM. PHILIP SIMMS,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Stockholm, Nov. 8 (By Mail)—Sweden is perhaps the most divided country in the universe over the war. One could not say with truth that Sweden is pro-ally or pro-German. There are many factions and each looks at the great conflagration in its own way.

Most everybody is anti-Russian. A great many are anti-British, a small circle are pro-German, but everybody is pro-French, even the pro-Germans. A strange paradox, but a true one. Still Sweden as a nation is neither pro-ally nor pro-German.

The Russian antipathy is historic. Sweden used to be on both sides of the Baltic. Russia took Finland and for generations Sweden has feared Russia some day would try to go further west, blazing a way to open ports of the Atlantic. German propaganda has helped this feeling along.

France, one and all say, has been the ideal country in this war, from the first gun till the last. She has fought like a lion and unselfishly. She has put herself, heart and soul into the struggle and has always fought strictly according to Hoyle. Her attitude has been nobility itself and not even the pro-Germans seem to hope for her defeat.

However, in this pro-German crowd one hears that England is using France for her own selfish purposes. According to them England is aiming at world-domination and that if the allies win and Germany is crushed, England will have her hand on the world's windpipe and can throttle it at leisure, commercially and otherwise.

And as proof of what England will do they point to the English blockade. Even now, they claim, Sweden is being sorely pinched economically by the action of England's fleet. The cost of living has gone up from 40 to 100 per cent, they assert, and certain commodities are not to be had at all. Should England become all-powerful, as she would in the event of a crushed Germany, what then would happen to Sweden?

I asked President Carl Frisk of the Stockholm Handels bank, one of the most powerful financiers in all Scandinavia and one of the best informed men in such matters in Sweden, about the effect of the British blockade and if it had effected the cost of living to any great extent. He did not seem to think it had. Living was higher he said, but on an average not more than 25 or 30 per cent. Sweden is exceedingly prosperous and there is plenty of money in the land.

Perhaps the greatest authority on the cost of living in Sweden is Axel Robert Bildt, director of Transito, Ltd., formed to handle freight "in transit" from foreign countries, through Sweden, to Russia. This concern was recognized by the British government and goods consigned to it were allowed free passage through the blockade because England had guarantees that such goods would not be diverted to Germany, once in Sweden, as formerly had been the case very often. The pro-German press of Sweden fought Transito mercilessly, claiming that through it England was trying to get a strangle hold on the economic life of Sweden controlling every mouth full of food and all other supplies coming into the country.

"This assertion was utterly without foundation," Director Bildt told me. "We handle only 'in transit' goods. These, now arriving in large quantities from America and other countries, are let through the blockade without delay. It is not true that England thus controls all Sweden's imports. We simply are surety to England that such goods are not consigned to us go to their proper destination instead of to the central powers."

"Has the cost of living gone up very much since the war?" he was asked.

"Not more than in the United States, Argentine and other neutral countries, I should say," he replied. "At the start we had in Sweden abundant supplies of everything but Swedish dealers could not withstand the temptation and to sell and disposed of this surplus, principally to Germany at war prices. Now we are short and prices have risen in consequence some 50 per cent on an average."

"England has tried to arrange with Sweden to allow Sweden to restock on an ante-bellum basis. But the pro-German element refuse to agree to this."

So relations between the two countries continued to be somewhat strained. England refused to allow certain things to pass the blockade and enter Sweden. Sweden retaliated by laying an embargo on certain articles—wood-pulp, for example.

Now the wood-pulp dealers, who formerly exported some 300,000 to 500,000 tons per year, have no market for their pulp and are not happy. "I am sure," Director Bildt said, "that at present our government would like to go back on its action. An agreement with England would benefit us much."

Livingston is charged with appropriating to the use of the Security National Loan Co. $700, as bellee and agent of Arthur O. Radke. Nine other indictments charge grand larceny in the first degree and one charges forgery of an abstract of title.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Interesting Papers Read by Rev. Walter J. Smith and Capt. Huffman This Morning

The regular meeting of the Brainerd Ministerial association was held this morning at the Y. M. C. A.

Rev. W. J. Smith read a paper on "School House Evangelism." This was followed by a paper by Captain Huffman on the subject, "The Salvation Army in America." The paper gave many valuable statistics concerning the work. After a general discussion a motion was passed asking that the papers be published in the Brainerd daily papers.

Next Monday Lieutenant Witchman will give a paper on the subject, "China in America," which promises to be of unusual interest because of the writer's experience among the Chinese on the Pacific coast.

Has a Wife the Right

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27—Whether a wife has the right to attend wakes and church socials, without her husband's permission, will legally be settled in a divorce suit of Mrs. W. A. Finnegan, against her husband, set for trial today.

No Judge of Wives

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27—August Kelan, whose divorce case is due to be tried in the courts today, don't think his brother in New York is any judge of wives. He told the court today that he married Mrs. Kelan in New York upon his brother's advice. She alleges he made her get up at 4 A. M. to feed their feathered chickens, put his brawny fingers, not arms, about her neck to choke her and other wise treated her right mean.

Want Club to Speed Up

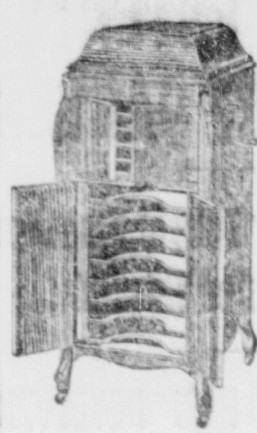

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27—The state auditor's office today asked the Capital City Athletic club to speed up their statement of receipts from the Gibbons-Dillon fight of Nov. 16. The state gets tax from the proceeds of fights. This tax is levied upon the official statement of the club, which is missing.

Jury Can Change Minds

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27—The Rice county court was reversed in a peculiar case by the supreme court today. John Paul sued C. E. Pye in the Rice county court for damages, following an automobile and motorcycle collision. The next morning the jurors signed an affidavit that they had decided upon a verdict favoring Paul. The Rice county verdict was set aside in the supreme court, establishing that jurymen have a right to change their minds.

CIVILIZATION A MASTERPIECE

Shown at the Best Theatre, Production of Thomas H. Ince—Wonderful Portrayal

WAR IN ALL ITS HORRORS

Submarines, Cruisers, Air Ships, Bombardments From Earth and Sky, Carnage Reigns

The "Best" theatre showed to large crowds Sunday, the masterpiece presented being Thomas H. Ince's "Civilization." Matinees today and this evening's performance conclude the engagement.

"Civilization" shows that 2,000 years has brought the nations of the earth no nearer to Christ's ideals than in the days of old when Roman battled with barbarian.

"Civilization" shows all the horrors of civilized warfare. Warriors of the present exceed those of the stone age in having perfected dozens of new engines of death and destruction. The pictures show submarines at work, scout cruisers and battle-ships, bombardments by land, sea and air, airships hurling their bombs on palaces, huts, bridges and crowds, cavalry and infantry engagements, artillery at work, a ceaseless carnage and butchery such as being waged in Europe today.

And when the crown prince of the stern king preaches "Peace," he nearly forfeits his life for the stand he has taken. As inventor of the submarine in the story, his views on carnage are changed by his sweetheart and in the end peace reigns where war was enthroned.

The music was a feature. An orchestra of two violins, cornet, piano and drums interpreted the difficult score with credit. A soprano soloist contributed the songs.

REACH AGREEMENT
FOR TEST OF LAW

Kansas City, Nov. 25—All preliminary obstacles to a decision by the supreme court of the United States on the Adamson law have been wiped out.

The only possible hitch in the proceedings lies in the question whether the highest court will make a decision by Jan. 1, when the law is scheduled to go into effect.

The case which goes to the upper tribunal is that of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad, heard here last Wednesday by Judge Hook, who held the law unconstitutional.

The cases of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and of other railroads which had applied to Judge Pollock in the United States district court at Kansas City, Kan., were postponed until after a decision by the supreme court, by agreement.

Announcement was made by Frank Hagerman, special assistant to the attorney general in Adamson law cases, and Walker D. Hines, chairman of the committee of railroad counsel, that similar postponements would be requested in all courts of the country where injunction suits have been filed.

DIVORCE CASE

Burilla Tullio Charges Husband With Cruelty, Wants Maiden Name Back

Burilla Tullio has sued Frank Tullio for divorce and in her complaint alleges she was 28 and he 27 years old. They were married in Duluth February 28, 1913, and separated last August.

She charges that on August 10, 1915, he cut and slashed her face while she was asleep, using a razor as his weapon. On December 8, while angry, he kicked and struck her. The next day he beat and struck with a broom handle, called her vile and indecent names, threatened to kill her.

On August 1, the complainant charges that at Chisholm he committed adultery with the plaintiff's sister, Alma Milander and has also done so at other times.

The plaintiff asks for an absolute divorce and the restoration of her maiden name.

TALKS ON THRIFT

Thrift in Little Things Means the Stopping of all the Little Leaks

"Don't take the top sheet" is the order issued by a large insurance company to its employees when taking stationery from the stock room. The reason is, the top sheet is soiled and dusty and must be thrown away, only to leave another top sheet to become soiled and wasted.

Over the electric button in a large hotel is the request: "We would appreciate the favor if you will turn out the light when leaving the room." Some hotels furnish a large cake of soap for each room daily, whether the guest changes or not, the bulk of which is wasted, while other hotels furnish a small cake just large enough for a day's use. Some hotels have the heavy and costly counterpane laundered every day, while others have the maids turn the covers back each night to avoid soiling.

The reason for these small economies is not niggardiness, but good management. Of what use is a large cake of soap when a small one answers the same purpose? Why burn the light when you are out of a room? Why soil expensive linen when a little care would prevent?

If every employee in a large office wastes but one sheet of paper a day, and every guest burns hours of needless light, the yearly cost is enormous. If a hotel can save but a cent a room a day on soap, it means a yearly saving of $1,500 in a hotel with 500 rooms. If every bundle that goes out of a department store has half a cent's worth of needless paper and twine, the loss is a large item in the firm's annual profit and loss account.

A certain restaurant found that it cost $30,000 a year to supply bread and butter gratis, and by charging but ten cents for this service turned a loss of $30,000 into a profit of $50,000. That is good management, however much we may grumble at the ten-cent tax.

Success in business, success in life, is a matter of applying thrift principles to little things. We too often forget that dimes make dollars. And as waste counts up fast, so savings grow space. If you were allowed to go over the books of any savings bank you would find hundreds of accounts that show steady, systematic saving. It may be but a dollar or two a week, but in the long run it mounts up. A certain young lawyer in New York who was once a pack peddler made it a steady habit when a boy to save fifty cents weekly, and he was as regular as the clock. It was the beginning of a successful career. Another young man, about to be married, saved five dollars a week for two years out of a salary of fifteen dollars and never missed a week.

The results of such systematic work will surprise even yourself. You know that fifty times two makes a hundred, but if you apply the principle to a bank account, you are bound to believe it. Little leaks can sink a ship as well as a great hole in the bow, and do it with less confusion. Little savings can make you rich as well as a great strike. The reason so many people are poor is simply because they cannot stop the little leaks. They spend little sums all the time, and in the multitude of little spendings

At the Best Theatre

The famous little English beauty, Peggy Hyland, who supports E. H. Sothern, the world's most famous actor in his first Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, "The Chatter," which is playing at the Best theatre tomorrow, was born in Worcestershire, England, just twenty-four years ago.

After receiving her education in England and at a convent near Liege, Belgium, she entered the drama at an early age with George Edward's company in London. She was then with Cyril Maude in "The Yellow Jacket," and afterward went into motion pictures where she scored heavily.

Desiring a most attractive leading lady for Mr. Sothern, Commodore J. Stuart Blackton of the Vitagraph company, was fortunate enough to secure Miss Hyland, who finds in the role of Lella Bard, which is the part she plays in "The Chatter," one decidedly to her liking.

Miss Hyland is passionately fond of her work and most industrious little body who reports at the studios early every morning ready for another day in which her charm and beauty will be registered by the camera under the large glass studios of the Vitagraph Co., where she hopes to remain for years and years.

Billy Miske's Terrible Right in Action

Billy Miske, the remarkable young light heavyweight of Minnesota, has created a sensation by his first appearance in the east. He not only whipped Battling Levinsky twice, but he decisively beat Bob Moha, the toughest and sturdiest customer in the ring today.

These photographs show the start and the finish of his terrible right hook, which he uses much as did Bob Fitzsimmons, the greatest of pugilists. It will be noticed he swings his entire body from the knees with that punch, thus getting all his weight except that of his legs below the knees into it.

FRED C. COOK HOCKEY EXPERT

E. R. Hosking, of St. Paul Dispatch, in Sport Comment Mentions Cook, One of Greatest Shots

WAS ON THE OLD VICTORIAS

Game is Getting Popular at the High Schools and Some Promising Players Developed

E. R. HOSKING (In Sport Comment St. Paul Dispatch)

The members of the hockey committee of the St. Paul Athletic club feel certain that the great winter game will come into its own this winter. They report that the demand for season tickets greatly exceeds anything that has been experienced before, and already they are confident that the club team, which holds its self-supporting amateur championship, will attract sufficient patronage to make it self-supporting, which was not the case last year, a deficit of more than $1,600 being one of the legacies left by the former management.

Inadequate facilities have held hockey down in St. Paul. The lack of a covered rink within easy distance of the residential district has in the past proved an insuperable obstacle. But by degrees fans have been trained to make the long trip to the fair grounds and the game seems certain to prosper this winter. That it would do very much better if a large covered rink were available in the Hill district is certain, but there is no prospect for anything like this before the winter of 1917.

St. Paul has produced some great hockey players, among them to mention only a few, being Fred C. Cook, now of Brainerd, of the old Victorias, one of the greatest shots ever seen anywhere; the Ordway boys, Homer Sweeney, McNair and others who shone in eastern college hockey, and the present crop of stars on the A. C. team, which includes Goheen, Fitzgerald, Conroy and Weidenborner. The game is getting popular at the high schools, and some promising players should be developed by scholastic teams this winter.

ENTENTE DEFENDS VENIZELIST CAUSE

Paris, Nov. 27.—The French minister to Greece has warned the Greek government in behalf of France, England and Russia that the countries named "cannot remain indifferent to the prosecution of that which adherents of the Venizelos cause are the object, and that the nations in question mean to see that the Venizelos supporters enjoy all the rights conferred upon them by law," a Hays dispatch from Athens says.

"The warning," the dispatch adds, "is believed to have been caused by the imprisonment of M. Lambraki, chief editor of the Patria, for publishing documents regarding the turning over of Fort Rupel (one of the Macedonian forts occupied by the Bulgarians)."

Herzog will be the Chief Spur to Giants

BY HAMILTON

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Nov. 27.—When John McGraw put over the deal that sent Christy Mathewson to Cincinnati as manager of the Reds, and brought Charley Herzog to New York to play second base for the Giants he accomplished one of the brightest moves of his somewhat brilliant career.

Regardless of McGraw's managerial ability, and regardless of how the Giants stand up next year, there is one thing that will be just as evident as it was when the New Yorkers hung up their historical winning streak last fall. Charley Herzog will be in these fighting and driving his team mates to greater efforts.

More than one close student of baseball gives Herzog more than half the credit for reviving the Giants last fall. His irresistible enthusiasm, his fighting mood on all occasions, and, best of all, his ability to make those playing with him apart at the same speed simply catapulted the Giants into that winning streak.

Herzog is not rated so good a hitter as Larry Doyle, his predecessor as second baseman for the Giants; he is not considered so good a base runner as Benny Kauff, and he is not the fielder that Eddie Collins is, but he is a fighter when the rest of them are through, and he put it over with a finesse that gives him a minimum of expulsions from the game.

There is one excellent example of Herzog's energy and the lengths to which he will go to win a ball game. Brooklyn was playing in New York last summer and Casey Stengel was thrown out at second base. Casey is considerable of a scrapper himself and he came up raving. Charley came up raving with him and he kept at it until he had cornered Stengel's goat to such an extent that Casey was ordered to the clubhouse. Herzog had so incensed Stengel that the Brooklyn outfielder turned his attention to the baseball player rather than to the umpire and the two of them wrangled several minutes before Stengel by request went to the shower.

U-BOAT REPORT STIRS OFFICIALS AT CAPITAL

Washington, Nov. 27.—Renewed anxiety over the submarine situation was occasioned by circumstantial reports two U-boats are headed for another raid on the American coast. The report tended to confirm the fear among administration officials the U-53 episode was only a prelude to more extensive operations.

Officials declare the United States cannot tolerate submarine warfare in the lanes of American commerce. If there is to be any attempt to blockade the American coast, even if the operations are conducted according to the strict law of visit and search, the vital interest of the United States will compel a vigorous protest to Germany.

As state department officials see it, the problem is not one of law, but of security. Technically, Germany has a right to use submarines as freely just outside the American three-mile limit as anywhere else on the high seas, but in so doing it would attack the vital interests of the United States more violently than those of its enemies.

OBJECT TO DEATH PENALTY

Kansans Want Federal Slayers Saved From Gallows.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 27.—A campaign, headed by Governor Arthur Capper and prominent Topekaans, was started here to prevent the hanging of William White, negro soldier, at the federal prison in Leavenworth on Nov. 29.

White was convicted of killing an other negro in Fort Leavenworth. There has not been a legal federal hanging in Kansas in twenty-five years and it has been nearly fifty years since the state had a legal execution.

State laws forbid capital punishment and a plea is to be made to President Wilson that a hanging on the government reservation, although legal, would conflict seriously with sentiment throughout the state.

WARNS ENTENTE SHIPS OF DANGER

British Cruiser Tells of Presence of U-Boats on This Side.

PROTEST IF RAID DEVELOPS

Submarine Warfare in Lanes of American Commerce Will Not Be Tolerated, Is Belief at Capital—Officials Are Anxious.

New York, Nov. 27.—Wireless warnings flashed to vessels under the flags of the entente allies by the British cruiser Lancaster, fifteen miles off Sandy Hook, telling them to beware of German submarines on this side of the Atlantic, furnished the first foundation of rumor prevalent here for several days that two U-boats are en route to this side to raid commerce.

Sharp Lookout Asked.

The Lancaster directed the commanders of all vessels to keep a sharp lookout for under-water boats.

They are told to show no more lights than necessary and to avoid, so far as possible, the regular steamer lanes.

Even since the raid of the U-53 along the Atlantic coast about six weeks ago, when five ships were sent down in one day, a second attack has been expected by shipping men and vessel owners here.

LEADERS OF NATIONS INDORSE PEACE BODY

New York, Nov. 25.—Messages of good will from the chancelleries of three of Europe's warring powers were read at a dinner given here by the League to Enforce Peace, to consider a program for a permanent league of nations at the close of the war.

Approval of the principle was given by Aristide Briand, premier of France; Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg of Germany, and Viscount Gray of Great Britain.

Third to Start Saturday.

Llano Grande, Tex., Nov. 27.—The order for the return of the Third Minnesota regiment sets Dec. 2 as the en-training date. As much of the mustering out work as possible will be done here, so as to make the stay in barracks as short as possible. It is likely the regiment will start by Friday or Saturday.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, rotten tongue, nasty taste or have a full, aching head, a sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

AUTO THIEF BLAMES WOMAN

Testifies He Was Honest Until He Met Mrs. Stiles.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—"Until I met her I was an honest man; honest as the most business men. I was within the law, anyhow."

Thus Louis M. Erb, confessed participant in some of the activities of an alleged automobile theft syndicate, summed up his bitterness toward Mrs. Elvina Stiles, an alleged member.

He was testifying for the state at the trial of Mrs. Stiles and Roy D. Whitehead. Erb accuses Mrs. Stiles of attempting to shift the blame to him.

Four other reputed leaders of the gang have reached South America and are safe from arrest, according to attaches of the state's attorney's office.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.
